Open application to Doe & Moe LLC

I hereby wish to apply to the open role as Junior Front end developer at Doe and Moe LLC.

I am a man from Bergen, with a fresh two year degree in Front End Development from Noroff school of digital media and technology. During my studying years I have launched multiple web application projects and founded personal start up projects.

I am really interested in your company's latest API technology and the innovation you have made in serving an increasing number of users with different needs. I think Doe & Moe LLC has the potential to become an industry leader of web development. I would like to contribute to that journey.

By launching my own projects and maintaining them, I have become capable of working across the full stack. Working together with friends and fellow students has given me real experience and appreciation of aligned team effort and support. I thrive in teamwork, but don't rely on it to keep evolving and be productive.

Design and code development is not just my field of work. It is also my great passion and hobby. I spend much of my free time designing and developing. To balance it out, I love to connect with nature and enjoy hiking and fishing outdoors. I also like to stay active and maintain my fitness with weightlifting and martial arts.

Going forward, I would like the opportunity to present myself further. I would gladly attend interviews and phone calls.

Best regards,
Tobias Hanevik.
